1. INTRODUCTION AND CONTEXT

Scouts Australia, South Australian Branch has always respected the privacy of its members and customers and understands the importance you place on the protection of personal information in its care. Our commitment to protecting your privacy is important to us.

This Privacy Policy complies with the Australian Privacy Principles embodied in the federal Privacy Act. It explains the kind of information we may collect from you and how we collect, maintain, use and disclose that information. It describes your privacy rights along with our general rights and obligations, as well as explains how you can access the information we keep and how you can update your own records or advise us of any concerns you have about the use of your information.

This policy is binding on all staff, volunteers and members of Scouts Australia (SA Branch) as well as all formations of the organisation in South Australia (from Branch level to the local Scout Group and Section).

All information collected from you will be used in accordance with the terms of this Privacy Policy.

2. PRIMARY PURPOSE DEFINITION

Personal information is collected and retained by Scouts Australia (SA Branch) on past and present adult members, as well as youth members and their parents, guardians or care-givers, for the primary purpose of operating the Scout Association in South Australia.

All information collected is directly applicable to the functions and activities of Scouting and to the health, well-being and protection of its members.

This information is entered and stored in a centralised database accessible only by authorised managers of Scouting. Data may also be retained in electronic or hardcopy format by any formation of the organisation to which the individual member belongs.

3. COLLECTION OF DATA

We will only collect personal information in a fair and lawful manner. Only that information which we require to properly manage and promote our organisation and ensure the health, well-being and protection of the organisation's members is collected.

We may collect personal information about you from you when you apply for membership, a training course, a major Scouting event, or, at other times when we communicate with you. We may also collect personal information about you from third parties such as parents, guardians and care-givers, Scouts staff and leaders and health care providers. During those occasions and in the application forms that we ask you to complete, there will be statements about privacy and requests for consent. Those privacy statements refer you to this policy where more detail is available on how any information about you may be used and disclosed in relation to your membership of Scouting in South Australia. When you apply for membership, you consent to us collecting, maintaining, using and disclosing personal information about you and provided by you or by another person in accordance with this policy. We will only ask for personal information that is reasonably necessary for our functions or activities.

4. USE OF IDENTIFIERS

When you apply to become a member of Scouts Australia (SA Branch), you are assigned a system generated number to uniquely identify you for the purposes of the organisation's operations. This number has no relationship to any identifier assigned by any other organisation.

5. TYPE OF DATA COLLECTED

"Personal information" means any information or an opinion about you to the extent that you are identified by or can reasonably be identified from the information, whether the information is true or not and whether the information or opinion is recorded in a material form or not.

Generally, we only collect personal information from you, with your consent. There are occasions where Branch Headquarters may collect information about you from your local Scout Group to whom you have applied to be a member. We do not collect or store information about you from individuals or organisations not connected with Scouting, however for the protection of our youth members, we are registered by SAPOL as an Authorised Volunteer Association for the purpose of screening and making determinations regarding our membership. Information provided by SAPOL is used solely to assist Scouts Australia (SA Branch) to assess an adult's suitability to join (or continue membership of) the Branch.

Our membership application forms request information that identifies you, such as; your full name and date of birth; and information that enables us to contact you such as address, phone and fax numbers, as well as email address(s). We also ask for the name of your school or, if employed, your occupation and a work contact. An important part of our membership application process is the identification of three of your personal referees. We also like to know your hobbies and interests and whether you have any other skills that may be of use to Scouts Australia (SA Branch).

The adult membership application form specifically provides the authority for Scouts Australia (SA Branch) to view your 'Person History Information' recorded by SAPOL. In applying to join Scouts you agree to provide your 'National Police Certificate' to Scouts Australia (SA Branch) for screening, which is then returned to you. Police checks are required for every adult applying for membership of Scouts Australia (SA Branch), and on each three-year anniversary of each membership (and at any other time required by Scouts Australia SA Branch). Changes to the process of issuing National Police Checks through SAPOL has resulted in the National Police Certificate being sent directly to the applicant. It is up to the individual to provide that Certificate to Scouts Australia (SA Branch) for screening prior to being accepted for membership and at each three-year anniversary of that membership.

We also collect information from internal sources and from members regarding their application to attend events and activities, training courses, appointments and qualifications related to Scouting.

In the case of youth members, we also have a requirement to know the names and contact details of parents, guardians and care-givers in case we have to contact them in an emergency, or to ensure they are informed about Scouting activities, policy issues or other important matters involving their children. We also ask for the parent, guardians or care-givers occupation details as well as their skills/hobbies and sporting/leisure activities, as our organisation relies on volunteers providing their time and expertise in a variety of areas for the benefit of our youth program. We ask parents, guardians and care-givers about their willingness to support their children's activities and to assist with their local Scout Group.

6. SENSITIVE DATA

The aim of the movement is to encourage the positive development of young people. - We collect health, and medical information, including Medicare and private health fund numbers, for youth members at the time of applying for membership, as well as each time we seek parent, guardian and care-giver permission for the young person to attend a Scouting activity. We may also collect health and medical information from you personally in consultation, from test results, from health care providers or from parents, guardians, care-givers, Scouts staff and leaders.

Similarly, you may specifically require that your personal contact details (incl home phone number) NOT be provided by the Branch Headquarters to any other Scout member for the purpose of communication between members by advising Branch Headquarters in writing of this requirement.

We may release information about you where we have a duty to disclose that information, or where disclosure is required or authorised for law enforcement or regulatory purposes. - the reasons for the refusal; and
- the mechanisms available to complain about the refusal.

11. ACCESS TO DATA BY MEMBERS

Scouting is essentially a 'volunteer' organisation. Communication between members is of primary importance for the organisation's operations and therefore the provision of contact details to members to allow them to make contact with other members is most important. Additionally, the provision of some personal information about members to other members (whose role may be to supervise and in some cases assess the performance of those members) is also essential to our program. Some personal information, 'notification of occurrence', or 'change in membership status' may be shared with other members of the Branch consistent with the Branch primary purpose (section 2). Staff of the organisation, including event staff and member volunteers, may have access to your health and medical information for the purpose of ensuring the health, well-being and protection of the organisation's members.

Information may be provided to another member of Scouting for these bona fide purposes.

Scouts Australia (SA Branch) may also publish a contact list showing personal contact details for a select list of senior adult members. This list is provided to all those on the list and to all adult members for contact purposes. As above, you may specifically require that your personal contact details (incl home phone number) NOT be included on these lists by advising Branch Headquarters in writing of this requirement.

12. ACCESS TO DATA BY NON-MEMBERS

Access to personal information by non-members, except custodial parents, guardians, care-givers and authorised volunteer adults in Scouting is not permitted, subject to other provisions of this policy and save as set out in this paragraph. Personally identifiable data is not provided to external parties except where Scouts Australia (SA Branch) has a duty to disclose that information, or where disclosure is required or authorised for law enforcement or regulatory purposes (as above).

Healthcare staff such as doctors, nurses, paramedics and first aid staff at branch run events may have access to or be provided with health and medical information of members for the purpose of ensuring the health, well-being and protection of the organisation's members. Where it is an emergency or, in the organisation's view withholding the information could severely endanger a member's life, health or safety or pose a serious threat to public health or safety, a member's health and medical information may be released to another health care provider without consent.

13. DATA SECURITY

Scouts Australia (SA Branch) takes all reasonable steps to protect your personal information from misuse, interference, loss, unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.

We have physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to protect your information which is held by us. Similarly, data containing your personal information may be held at your Group in electronic format. In these circumstances, the security of this information is also vested in those adults that have access to this data.
